Proposals will be addressed to me at Washington City, D. C., accompanied by a guarantee as to the ability of the person offering to purchase, to comply with the terms proposed, stating how much of the purchase money will be paid in cash, and what time will be required on the deferred payments; the remaining payments must be secured by a lien on the property. If required, a liberal credit will be given on the deferred payments, by paying the interest on the same semi-annually.

THEATER—GREAT BILL FOR TO-NIGHT—MISS JENNIE HIGHT IN THE PROTEAN FARCE OF A DAY IN PARIS—ROB ROY, AND THE FUNNY PANTOMIME OF THE FRISKY COBBLER.—Mr. Dickson had a good house at his benefit last night. The new comedy of "Take that Girl Away" was an humorous hit, and was received with perfect shouts of laughter. We hope it will be repeated. Mr. Dickson played the part of Rocket inimitably. He is very clever in such light comedy parts; few on the stage are better.

To night an excellent bill is presented: Rob Roy, A Day in Paris, and the pantomime of the Frisky Cobbler. Miss Jennie Hight performs four different characters in the same piece in which she made so decided an impression on her benefit night. The pantomime gives Smith an opportunity to show how much fun and humor can be concentrated in one person.

We had nearly forgotten to mention the Zouave drill, which went off admirably, and the speech of the gallant Captain, or its final period, showing that a candidate for office should never be troubled with any particular amount of bashful modesty.

BLIND TOM, THE PIANIST.—This piece of human flesh amazed a multitude of persons last night at Masonic Temple. His skill on the piano was perhaps best illustrated by his improvisations. He reproduced a difficult piece of music as executed by the accomplished musician and composer, Mr. Charles L. Ward, and with great accuracy. This music was improvised by Mr. Ward for the purpose of testing the powers of Tom. He played Fisher's Hornpipe and Yankee Doodle at the same time, and varied the performance by singing Dixie. Such an exhibition as this was never before witnessed. His execution of the Daughter of the Regiment, Norma, and other operas was excellent. Altogether, such a wonderful musician has never before been seen in Louisville. Go and see and hear him.

HOMICIDE.—George Hikes, a son of Andrew Hikes, was killed at the Six mile House on the Bardstown turnpike on Tuesday night by Wesley Owens, the proprietor. It is stated that the parties had a difficulty, and the deceased snapped his pistol on Owens, who then shot him through the heart. Hikes died instantly. He was married, respectably connected, and has many relatives in this county.

Owens, who is a cripple, it will be remembered, killed John Gaiton and John Alligator about three years since at the same place.

☞ Mr. Spencer requests us to say that he has received a variety of furniture since his advertisement, of equal merit with that already advertised, which will be sold on Friday morning. A young family horse, he requests us to say, will be sold at 10 o'clock precisely. During the day he will sell two valuable oil paintings, by Mr. Mecker, and several others by inferior artists; several pianos are also to be sold. He continues his sale of dry goods at Guthrie & Brothers' store to-day.

HELD FOR PERJURY.—We neglected to state that Brock and Hill, charged with shooting Mortimore Q. Walker, were discharged the other day by Esquires Clement and Matlack. Walker, the principal witness against them, was held over in $500, to answer the charge of perjury, arising out of his evidence in the cause. His father went on his bond.

☞ Hon. Wilson, a Scotchman, who has been absent for four weeks, is informed that his wife and five children have been turned out of their house, not having money to pay rent. If he has any feeling he will respond to the sufferings of his wife and little ones. It is believed that he is in the vicinity of Salem, Indiana.

Vote on the African Slave Trade.

We learn from the Vicksburg Whig that the clause in the permanent Constitution of the Confederate States, prohibiting the African slave traffic, was adopted in the Montgomery Congress by a vote of four States to two. South Carolina and Florida opposed the restriction, while Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, and Mississippi advocated it.

☞ It is a fact, when good judges want pictures—that is, the genuine article—of any size or kind, they go to Elrod's, No. 409 Main street. Although the weather yesterday was not pleasant, Elrod's Gallery was crowded all day with customers.

MOVEMENTS IN FLORIDA.—The Charleston Mercury learns by private dispatches from Tallahassee, that Gov. Perry is concentrating troops at Pensacola with the utmost activity.

☞ A company of dragoons called the Jefferson Rangers was organized last evening. Capt. Jack Jones and A. Maxwell are among the officers.

☞ St. Clair Morgan, of Nashville, was mortally wounded by Thos. Sterns, of Alabama, in a duel last week at Pensacola. They were both soldiers.

☞ Mr. Peres, the late Rabbi of the Hebrew Church in Memphis, has recovered $20,000 in a suit for damages against his congregation.

NAVY FOR THE SOUTH.—We learn that the Government of the Confederate States at Montgomery has issued orders for the purchase of the clipper steamship Habana, of this port, now under the command of Capt. McConnell, in the Havana trade, to be fitted out as a war steamer.

The Habana is admirably adapted as a war steamer, being staunchly built, and one of the fastest steamers now afloat. We understand that she has been examined by Commodore Rousseau, who expresses himself highly satisfied with her. She will leave this port on the 7th proximo for Havana, with our Commissioners to Europe, to meet the British mail steamer.

LETTER FROM FRANKFORT.

Resolutions Lost—Military Appropriations Passed—To Repeal School for Imbeciles.

[Correspondence of the Louisville Courier.]

FRANKFORT, March 27.

Editors Louisville Courier: In the Senate this morning, Mr. Taylor introduced resolutions instructing our representatives in Congress to procure the repeal of the act providing for the holding of the United States Court in the cities of Louisville, Covington, and Paducah. The resolutions were lost—yeas 17; nays 17.

The discussion on the Military bill was resumed, the proposition being Mr. Taylor's substitute abolishing the Military Law. Mr. Whitaker enmeshed his speech against Mr. Machen's bill and in favor of Taylor's substitute. He was ably and triumphantly responded to by Mr. Pennebaker, who demonstrated the necessity of the strict discipline which Mr. W. was pleased to call "tyranny," and showed that in the matter of power vested in the Governor, the present Military Law is less objectionable than the old Militia Law. Mr. P. completely swept away the trumped-up objections of the nervous gentlemen, who are so sensitive upon the question of perfecting the military organization of the State.

A vote will probably be had this afternoon.

In the House, Mr. Cleveland introduced the resolutions of Capt. Bonsseau in regard to the navigation of the Mississippi.

The bill making trifling appropriations for military purposes has at last, after a deal of trouble, got through the House. It was to-day taken up, under a motion to reconsider, and passed—yeas 51, nays 42. It got through like the Dutch miller got to Heaven—by a "tight squeeze"—it being the smallest possible number of votes required. Some gentlemen objected to voting for it because of the appropriation to pay the salary of the Inspector General.

A bill was introduced by Mr. Gilbert repealing the act establishing the School of Imbeciles at this place. I regret to say that it received seventeen votes in its favor.

The House passed a resolution fixing Monday, April 1, as the day of adjournment.

Two reports from the House Committee on Federal Relations were presented. The majority report, presented by Mr. Finn, ratifies the amendments to the Constitution passed by Congress, and provides for a Border Slave State Convention, to meet in Frankfort on the 27th of May. The report of the minority, presented by Col. Hodge, ratifies the amendments to the Constitution, with a distinct disclaimer on the part of Kentucky, however, of any intention of accepting it as a settlement of existing difficulties. It also declares it to be the duty of the Federal Government to immediately withdraw the Federal troops from the forts of the seceded States, and cultivate amicable relations with the Government de facto of the Southern Confederacy. A Border Slave State Convention, to meet in Frankfort on the 1st of June, is also provided for.

The troublesome question of a suspension of courts, as a relief measure, was again up in the House. A proposition to suspend the courts of Caldwell and Lyon was amended so as to include forty or fifty other counties, and then voted down.

QUILP.

The South Carolinians.

The Charleston correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says this deserved compliment to the noble South Carolinians:

"Let the fanatic and heardless say what they may, history will record the course of this gallant little State as belonging to the best days of real heroism. Burke was wrong. The age of chivalry is not gone. Alone, poised upon her own sense of duty, a mere handful of men and women rose up, braving any obloquy and hostility, and to solving with perfect unanimity to perish on their hearthstones sooner than dishonor. What treasures have been expected—what tears shed by mothers and wives—what hardships welcomed by youths reared up delicately and in affluence—none of you can conceive. And the same cheerful endurance of exposure, toil, drudgery, and jalcation are still witnessed. As an example, rank this little incident, which I had from an officer high in command.—Col. ——, wishing to visit the city, five of his soldiers immediately volunteered and thrust themselves hastily to the oars. The day was hot; the distance perhaps ten miles. The oarsmen were young gentlemen of the most distinguished families; young Rutledge, young Middleton, young Huger, young Pinckney, young Hayne—all themselves wealthy, highly refined—but rushing to the tent and all the hardships of the field, and all the perils of battle, when their State had engaged in a struggle for her interests and her dignity. Can even the Summer wish that such men should be slaughtered by the mere mercenaries who compose most of the ple in the American army? One such citizen soldier would be too costly a price for any pile of bricks and park of artillery in the world—much more for a fort that can be of no sort of use to the Government at Washington, and which must belong to the State from whose waters it emerges."

EASTERN MORALITY.—A rather unpleasant affair occurred in Boston, last Friday evening, at the Tremont Rooms:

A lady went out to walk, met a particular friend of her's whom her husband had reason to suspect of acting in a manner not altogether flattering to a husband, and was followed by the latter into the Tremont Rooms. The husband ordered the lady to give up her night-key, and at the same time told her she need not return home the same night. The lady refused to give the key up, the husband became somewhat noisy about the matter, the lady persisted in doing as she desired, said much that was not inviting to the husband's ears, and closed the scene by leaving the premises in company with the same gentleman friend who provoked the husband's wrath.

Candidate in Oldham.

As candidates for various offices are presenting themselves to the suffrages of the free voters of Kentucky, at the coming August election, we deem that some one, who is worthy of the position, should take the stump in Oldham county for the next Legislature, to maintain the rights of the South and constitutional liberty.

We know of no one who can do it with more gallantry than our friend John R. Gathright. We are in hopes he will suffer his name to go before the people of Oldham as a candidate for the next Legislature. If he will so consent, we can assure him a most triumphant election.

MANY VOTERS OF OLDHAM.

INQUEST No. 266.—Held at the Seven-Mile House on the Bardstown Turnpike Road, over the body of George H. Hikes, aged about 26 years. Verdict: "Came to his death between 10 and 11 o'clock on the night of the 26th inst., from a gunshot wound in the left side of the breast, at the hands of W. J. Owen, in self-defense." J. M. BUCHANAN, Cor.

INQUEST No. 267.—Held on Main street, between Brook and Floyd, over the body of Richard Carney, an Irishman, aged about 45 years. Verdict: "Came to his death suddenly, on the morning of the 27th inst., while walking upon the side walk at the place above named, from destitution, general debility, and emaciation." J. M. BUCHANAN, Coroner.

COTTON SPINNERS CONVENTION.—This body met at Atlanta, Georgia, on the 19th inst. Four States and eight manufacturing establishments were represented, and the body was composed of a number of men who are prominently known all over the South as experienced manufacturers and economists, and some as statesmen.

The Convention elected Hon. William Gregg, of Graniteville, S. C., as President; Daniel Pratt, of Alabama, and Isaac Scott, of Georgia were chosen Vice Presidents, and W. J. Russell, of Georgia, as Secretary.

Three committees were appointed—one to form a Constitution for the Association, one to send a cargo of Southern manufactured goods to Germany, and one to go to Montgomery to solicit from Congress permission to import cotton machinery into the Confederate States for two years free of duty.

The Association then adjourned to meet again on the second day of May next.

Terrible Tragedy—A Farmer Murdered by his Own Slave—The Murderer Hung by the Neighbors.

On last Saturday morning a fearful tragedy was enacted in the vicinity of Saundersville in Sumner county, in which a well known citizen, Mr. W. C. Moore, was murdered by one of his slaves, and the murderer afterwards hung to a tree by the friends and neighbors of Mr. Moore. The circumstances, as we learn them from parties who were present at the hanging, are as follows: Mr. W. C. Moore was a farmer near Saundersville, and had recently purchased a farm in Alabama, and contemplated removing to that State with his family and negroes. He was to have brought his slaves down to Nashville yesterday morning on the Gallatin Accommodation, and on Saturday hearing that one of his negroes, named Tom, a boy that he had raised from childhood, had declared that he would die before he would be taken South, Mr. Moore sent over for a neighbor, Mr. Tullius P. Craig, to assist him in tying the negro or handcuffing him to keep him from running away.

Mr. Moore, accompanied by his son, a young man, and Mr. Craig, repaired to the cabin occupied by Tom, but not anticipating any trouble with him, went unarmed. As soon as they entered the cabin, the negro, who was a stout fellow, weighing about two hundred, and over six feet in hight, sprang at the young man, Mr. Moore's son, with an open knife, and cut at his throat. The blade fortunately struck the chin bone of young Moore and glanced, otherwise he would have been killed instantly. The vicious negro then sprang upon the father, Mr. W. C. Moore, and grasping his coat collar with his left hand, with the other he drove the weapon into his unfortunate victim's throat, and cut a fearful gash, the wound ranging from beneath the right jaw to the collar bone up the left shoulder, even cutting through the cravat. Mr. Craig, who is a very stout man, seized a chair to strike down the negro, but the ceiling being very low, the chair struck against it and before he could swing it again, the murderer caught him round the waist, threw him aside as if he was a child and escaped. After going a few steps, he stopped and looked back at Mr. Craig with his knife drawn, as if contemplating an attack upon him, but changed his mind, evidently, and fled.

Mr. Moore staggered into his house, and dropping into a chair, remarked to his wife: "I am a dead man." Mrs. M. assisted her husband to a lounge, and as soon as he was placed in a recumbent position, he breathed his last. His son, Mr. Dock Moore, it is said, will survive. The news of the murder soon circulated through the neighborhood, and the farmers of that vicinity took the guns and pistols and such other weapons as they could procure and gave pursuit after the murderer, branching off into the woods he partied. Tom was overtaken several miles from the house, but fought to the last before he would allow himself to be taken, and manifested his viciousness by striking at a dog that was following close upon his heels. He was shot twice before he gave in, once in the back, and again in the right shoulder. He was guarded back to the house, and then hung upon a tree, where he was allowed to swing for about an hour, after which he was taken down and buried.

The Insurrection at Warsaw—Additional Particulars.

From various correspondence in the late journals from Europe it appears that the demonstrations which took place on the 25th in Warsaw, Russian Poland, were limited to a procession, which would have had no importance but for a collision between the police and the crowd. On the following day Col. Trepow issued a police proclamation, which did not much tend to allay popular excitement. On the 27th a detachment of infantry, which had been brought in to secure order, was assailed with stones, and replied with bullets, killing six prominent citizens. In this manner so far as can be gathered from the yet fragmentary accounts, the sanguinary part of the events took place. On the 28th the people seized upon the bodies of the citizens killed, paraded them through the streets, and took them to the French Consulate. The French Consul refused to appear, and sent word that he could not take any part whatever in the manifestation which had been made. The government abstained from using the armed force, not feeling perhaps strong enough to meet the fury of the whole population. On the 1st of March the troops were consigned to their barracks, and the Governor rendered the town responsible for its tranquility. The people themselves kept order, and made preparations for the inauguration ceremony of the victims. A letter of a later date says:

"The funeral has taken place without disturbance: a cortege of more than 100,000 persons passed quietly in front of the Russian piquet, who presented arms. Public emotion has, happily, taken the direction of a legal manifestation. A petition to the Emperor is under signature. The infinitive step has been taken by men of the highest rank; among them are three marshals of the nobility. The petition requests the re-establishment of the Constitution of 1815, which has been suspended for thirty years. The number of signatures is immense. A compromise may, therefore, be expected. Nevertheless, a great number of Polish officials have sent in their resignations.

"The disturbances have produced a deep sensation at Berlin and throughout Germany. The Government begins to understand that Poland is not dead, and that it is not so easy as they imagined to suppress patriotic sentiments in a nation of 15,000,000 souls, which, not speaking the language of their masters, and not professing the same religion, keeps its patriotism continually alive in the glorious reminiscences of its independence, and its aspirations towards a future and liberty."

PREVENTING THE EXECUTION OF A REQUISITION FROM THE GOVERNOR OF KENTUCKY, WHICH HAS BEEN RECOGNIZED BY THE GOVERNOR OF OHIO.—Some days ago Henry Schwarz, was arrested by the police of this city upon information received from Kentucky, for obtaining money under false pretenses in that State. He was taken before the police court on a warrant issued by Mayor Bishop, and was sent to jail by order of that court.

A writ of habeas corpus was then procured of the Probate Judge, but before it

Free Negroes in the North.

Why have those Northern States such a intolerant toward the South on account of the policy of the latter respecting the negro? Do the North acknowledge the rights of the negro as a citizen? They, indeed, hold in practice that the negro has no rights that the white man is bound to respect. They grant him only what is convenient to themselves. They don't allow him to hold office, to vote, to serve on juries, or give testimony in court against a white man.—[Lou. Dem.

In the State of New York, negroes owning $250 can vote. They are competent witnesses in all cases. One of the very latest cases in that state, that of Governor PICKENS vs. Ocean Steamship Company, was decided in favor of the defendants upon the testimony of the negro porter.

In Ohio, negroes vote and give testimony. The case of Vallandingham vs. Campbell, in Congress, is sufficient evidence of the fact.

In most of the New England States, the doors are thrown wide open, and the negro is placed upon a perfect equality with the white man and is eligible to fill any of the State offices, from Governor down to Constable. They can vote and serve on juries, and do so. They are competent witnesses in all cases; and negro children sit side by side with white children in the public schools.

We learn that already two hundred and ten applications have been made to the Postoffice Department at Washington by negroes living in Massachusetts alone, for appointments under the present Administration, and the applications have been received and filed!

And looking at the free negroes of the North in this light, as entitled to equality in their States with the white man, regarding them as citizens of the States in which they live, Mr. LINCOLN in his Inaugural Address recommends to Congress to make such provisions as may be necessary to secure to those Black citizens of Vermont and Massachusetts all the privileges and immunities of citizens in Kentucky!

This is Black Republicanism. It cannot raise the negro to equality with the white man; but where its sway is sufficiently powerful, it degrades the white man to the level of the negro! And should Kentucky madly and wickedly separate herself from her Southern sisters, with whom alone she can find safety, prosperity, and peace, and weakly and foolishly trust her institutions and the liberties of her people to those whose "bad fellowship and broken faith" she has had so much cause to deplore, the present generation, should they not fly for refuge from the impending calamity to other climes and other countries, will live to see the slaves of their ancestors, the servants of their own happier days, trade their equals in political power, jostling them at the ballot box, and competing with them for official favor, as is now the case in the Free States to which we have referred!

☞ The 8th of January Convention passed resolutions fixing the blame for our troubles on the people and the States of the North, whose "bad fellowship," "broken faith," and "palpably unjust and unconstitutional claims" to the Territories would not, in their opinion, be submitted to by a free people jealous of their liberties.

They demanded a settlement on the basis of the CRITTENDEN propositions. And they declared if the process of separation were not arrested, they would stand by the proposed plan of settlement to the extent of forming a Central or Middle Confederacy of such States as would agree to it, leaving those that should decline it to form separate Republics.

Well, the process of separation was not arrested. Other States followed the example of South Carolina. Seven States are now out of the Union, whereas there was then but one. Good faith we are compelled to say, requires those who sanctioned and approved the ultimatum then proposed, to stand by it yet. And it is a subterfuge to deny that it was not an ultimatum. It was at least a conditional ultimatum; and the conditions having been filled, it became a positive one.

If the process of separation should continue further, then, at least, they were pledged to stand by the CRITTENDEN Compromise. The process of separation did continue; six other States have gone out of the Union; others yet will certainly go; but instead of forming a Central Confederacy on the basis established by themselves, or consenting to any separation from the Free States, they abandoned their own proposition, abandoned the Central Confederacy project, and, despite the technicalities of their logic, are for unconditional submission to the policy foreshadowed in the Chicago platform!

Our readers will remember that the Toronto Leader declared some weeks since, on "authority," that the British Government would recognize the new Southern Confederacy as soon as formed. We are authorized by an American gentleman, now in Europe, to say that the statement of the Leader was placed before Lord Palmerston, at his residence, and that Lord Palmerston declared in the most positive terms that there was "no truth in the report, and no foundation for it."—[N. Y. World.

This statement is probable in itself and consistent with everything else that we know on this point. The statement is no doubt correct.—[Lou. Journal.

Drowning men will catch at straws. "An American gentleman," doubtless a Black Republican, knows fully the policy of foreign Governments!

Per contra, however, we may cite Mons. GALLIARDET, who, thoroughly conversant with French affairs, writes from Paris to the Courrier des Etats Unis, that France will promptly recognize the Southern Confederacy. The Pays, whose editor was the author of the celebrated pamphlet which unerringly indicated the Emperor's Italian policy, says that the North is altogether in the wrong, and that France will certainly receive the Ministers of the Confederate States. This is considered in France as semi-official; and that Government has virtually recognized the new Republic by its action towards the Southern ships which have landed at Havre under clearances from the Confederate States. They have been treated as ships sailing under any other national flag, have discharged their cargoes, taken on board others, and sailed for Southern ports.

In the British Parliament, Mr. GREGORY, on the 5th March, gave notice that on an early day he would call the attention of Her Majesty's Government to the expediency of a prompt recognition of the Southern Confederacy of America. However, when Her Majesty's Government is made acquainted with the fact that the Journal does not approve of it, and that distinguished members of the Kentucky Senate will protest against it, perhaps the status of both English and French State policy may be changed.

☞ Gen. COMBS, the youthful LESLIE COMBS, the gallant Captain COMBS,—who don't know COMBS?—has received another letter; and of course an opportunity to put his name into the newspapers, in good company too, wasn't lost.

Well, all great men have their little weaknesses and Gen. COMBS, and Peter Sparks, and John Johnson by the way, with an itching to see their names in print.

We pity them, even more than we do an outraged public, and the "ism sick."

State Executive Committee.

All communications to the Executive Committee of the Southern Rights Party should be addressed to W. H. SPARKE, the Secretary of the Committee; and all information furnished or official documents issued by the Committee, will be signed by A. O. BRANNIN, the Chairman, and countersigned by the Secretary.

"No Submission to Traitors."

Under this head the Cincinnati Gazette, the leading Black Republican paper in the West, repudiates the idea that the Administration will falter in the coercive policy heretofore avowed in the Inaugural Address. Fort Sumter, it maintains, will only be surrendered, if at all, "from a humiliating necessity," and "if the nearly universal public sentiment of at least the Northwest is to be shocked" by the abandonment of this fort, it does not believe other places in the South are in a condition in which they cannot be defended; and it affirms that a "universal submission policy" would not be tolerated in a solitary State that voted for Mr. LINCOLN. It says:

> We again caution those people who assume that the Administration is about to adopt the submission policy that they should not be hastily lumping that extreme into any conclusion. It will be seen from the regular Washington dispatches that even the abandonment of Fort Sumter is by no means so definitely settled as we have been told. The gossip mongers have a good deal to answer for, in regard to the stories they daily send out through the country, on matters about which they cannot have any positive knowledge. At least, when the reports of one day are directly contradicted on the next, we must hesitate to give their words implicit credence.
>
> If the nearly universal sentiment of at least the Northwest is to be shocked by the surrender of Fort Sumter, it cannot be otherwise than from a humiliating necessity. When it is added that Fort Pickens will also be abandoned, or that the supplies are getting short there, too, and a surrender is under discussion in Cabinet council, do not believe a word of it. No such necessity exists there. Such a surrender can only be thought of as part of a "universal submission" policy, that would not be tolerated in a solitary State that voted for Mr. Lincoln.

☞ The New York Journal of Commerce says:

> The tone of the English press has been essentially modified, in treating the question of slavery, since secession in the United States became a fixed fact. In their estimation, the institution of slavery seems to be far less obnoxious than formerly; less repugnant to humanity; and to be tolerated as a necessary evil rather than to be fought with the sword, regardless of all consequences.
>
> One might almost detect a growing fondness for the long-enslaved slaveholders, who don't turn out to be such a barbarous set, after all. The truth is, England considers her commercial interests paramount to all others. Now that she must contend with the North in tariff, the motive for recognizing the independence of the seceded States operates with a power proditiously increased. If the Republicans had desired recognition by foreign powers of the Southern Confederacy, they could not have done anything better calculated to secure that end than was their adoption of a high protective tariff.

A Southern View of the Question.

MEADE COUNTY, Ky., March 23, 1861.

Editors Louisville Courier: There is one thing that some men of the South do not fully understand, or lose sight of in giving too much prominence to the "slavery question," "rights in the Territories," &c., and assigning these as the only issues and as causes for disunion; others arguing the contrary, believing that all these can be "fixed up" better in the Union than out of it, therefore causing a disunited South; when, however they expect to obtain their rights, it is admitted on all hands that all nothing in a just demand would be the only sure way of getting them. It seems to me that there is one view to be taken of our position in the South, that must be had and how to be degarding; and that every man, slaveholder and non-slaveholder, Union men, and Southern Rights men, and all other men living and voting in the South could agree upon, and unite in demanding the guarantee against. I mean the disfranchisement of the South, and the entire abolishing of her voice in the councils of the nation, executive and legislative, for ever hereafter, if the North so wills it.

What is the use of our voting in the South hereafter? We are to have no control and no voice in the Government. The North sees that she can elect her President, and will always (if you settle present difficulties) get up some issue that will unite the Northern vote. But "we can still elect our Representatives to Congress and Senate." What good will it do? What's the use of sending them there? Their voices are of no avail. They are overwhelmed by a large and growing majority. We will drop the slavery question, and start any other of vital importance to the South—if not in accordance with the views or interests of the North, our representation is of no avail to us. There is to be exclusive Northern legislation, and we must submit to it or be the "the Union." What is this but disunion on the part of the North, cutting the South off entirely from all participation in the Government? I don't care if they give us the "Crittenden Compromise" in full; being a mere appendage to a Government for its "greatness and glory," mere "hewers of wood and drawers of water," without any participation or voice in shaping its policy, or in the councils of the nation, is more than any free people or any set of men of an independent spirit will patiently submit to. It is this that galls and chafes the Southern mind, at for admitting and hoping that all other difficulties may be settled, and will finally be seen and felt by every man in the South, and unite us all to a man in remedying the evil. How is it now? A sectional President, elected by a purely sectional vote; a Cabinet of Northern men, with the exception of two, and they not in any wise representing the interests, views, or sentiments of a single Southern State; does not every man see that the South is debarred from any participation in the councils of the nation? Can any man see the use of voting or holding elections for National representation hereafter? It is all a farce!

Our Representatives may go to Washington and excite the sympathies of the civilized world by a recital of our wrongs, or the injustice of being at the mercy and placed under the control of a dominant sectional majority, and plead, as the Border States plead now, for mercy, for amendments, for new guarantees. Do you ever know church or State to yield their power—a power unmistakably possessed? Did you ever know an individual, prince, potentate, or peasant to do so, without being compelled to yield? Does history record any such instance? Our national Representatives would plead them in vain, or about with as much effect as the pleadings of Ireland and Poland auounced to, and result in about the same—our being held as a mere appendage to a hostile Government.

Now, what we of the South ought as to unite upon, is a demand for the remedy we believe. I believe, of itself, it would end all others, viz: A Constitutional provision prohibiting a sectional vote electing; say that one-fifth, even, of the electoral vote of the South should be required to elect, where the candidate received the requisite majority, otherwise North. This would compel parties and candidates to be more or less national; and as this was founded as a national and not as a sectional Confederacy, its rulers ought to be national men, and all others rendered ineligible. Let one or two things has to be. The Republican or any other purely sectional party has to go down, or this Government. Then who are the Disunionists—those who drove us off or those who leave? I would like "Union men," looking to several more Free States soon to be added to the present number, to say what hope there is of the South against this happening viz. Occupying the position of mere cipers? For one, I hope therefore the Border Slave States will remedy this evil with their "amendments," the hardest to be borne by freemen, and "go out in a cold," if they don't get their rights, rather than seek wealth by gathering the tortures of the damned. SOUTH.

P. S. As the "Border States" are dealt on "amendments," (that they won't get) how would it do to offer the following as "Engrossed Bills," viz. That Presidents from the North should make a tour through the Southern States, (it being express by prohibited traveling by night trains or in disguise) and those from the South vice versa. I think'am wouldn't then offer again sure, and in fact it would "nationalize" most cognizante.

[From the Bowling Green Standard.]

COL. R. C. BOWLING.—It will be seen by reference to another column that a call has been made upon Col. Bowling to become a candidate for Congress in this District. Col. Bowling is an unflinching defender of Southern Rights, and we are in possession that there is not a man in the district that can beat him for that position. We, therefore, trust that Col. Bowling will consent to become a candidate at an early day, and take the stump, and we are confident that the voters of the old Third will cheerfully indorse him by a triumphant election.

A CARD.
UNITED STATES HOTEL, October 2, 1860.
To Mr. HIRAM WILKINS:

THE CARPET LINING put down for us by you is the only thing of the kind that we have ever seen that we would care to have put under our carpets in this house. We are pleased with it, that we would be very unwilling to have another carpet (old or new) put down without it. The difference between a room where it is used and where it is not, is so striking as to arrest the attention of the most inattentive servant. It is worth more than it cost in the increased cleanliness and pleasantness it gives the carpet, and we think you do not overrate its economy in stating that it adds one half to the carpet's wear. If our recommendation of it will add anything to your sales, we cheerfully give it. Many of our customers a much greater kindness than we do you.

YESTERDAY NOON'S DISPATCHES.

EXTRA SESSION OF THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The consideration of Mr. Douglas' resolution was resumed.

Mr. BRECKINRIDGE replied to Mr. Douglas' speech of yesterday. He defended that the Republicans had yielded any of their essential principles, and it was unjust to the people South to announce that they had done so. He called on Republican Senators themselves to answer whether they had made any such abandonment.

Mr. COLLAMER replied—not as we are aware of.

Mr. BRECKINRIDGE then alluded to the argument of Mr. Douglas that the Republicans had not asserted their platform in any bills recently passed organizing Territories. He said they had not because they feared the bill would not be passed in form, and the President might veto it if passed, while they desired the immediate passage as increasing Federal patronage. Mr. Breckinridge was confident that the Republicans would not yield. Fifteen States would soon be out of the Union. So far they had yielded nothing nor manifested a disposition to do so.

Mr. DOUGLAS replied that he would not conceal his surprise. The Senator from Kentucky denied all the positions he had assumed. His object was to demonstrate no cause for such action, and that Kentucky has justice and equality in the territories according to the test prescribed by the Senator himself. The Senator knew that the Territories of Colorado, Nevada, and Dacotah, had been organized on the basis of the Kansas-Nebraska bill. These territories were organized on the principle of non-intervention by Congress. The people are to decide the slavery question as they please, subject only to the limitation of the Constitution, leaving the courts to ascertain what that limitation is. This is all the South has asked. The Republicans have abandoned the Wilmot Proviso and Congressional interference, and repudiate the Congressional prohibition of slavery. The Senator would not deny this. He did not ask the Senator from Kentucky to say the Republicans have abandoned all their essential principles; he did not ask him to do anything to promote their interest: he did not believe in the political creed of that party, and did not believe the best interests of the country would be promoted by the increase of their power, still he preferred Union under a Republican administration to none at all.

Mr. GRIMES, of Iowa, moved that Mr. Douglas' resolution, calling for information relative to forts, navy yards, &c., below the Senate, be laid on the table.

The question was decided in the affirmative—23 against 18.

Mr. BRECKINRIDGE asked leave to offer the following resolution, and, if no objection, would vote on it now:

"Resolved, That the Senate recommend and advise the removal of United States troops from the limits of the Confederate States."

Mr. SUMNER—Let it lay over.

Mr. CLINGMAN remarked that he had drawn a similar resolution with one point in addition, and had shown it to several Senators, and it had met their approval. It was as follows:

"Resolved, That in the opinion of the Senate it is expedient for the President to withdraw all the Federal troops from the States of South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Texas, and Louisiana, and abstain from all attempts to collect revenue in those States."

Mr. CLINGMAN added that, if the troops are withdrawn, there ought to be forbearance as to the collection of revenue.

Mr. COLLAMER moved that the Senate go into Executive session.

Mr. Colhoun's motion prevailed.

The Senate, after Executive session, adjourned.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The Chair presented a message from President Lincoln, relating to a resolution passed by the Senate, asking if, in his opinion, it is not incompatible with the public interest, to communicate the dispatches of Major Robt. Anderson to the War Department during the time he has been in command at Fort Sumter. The President says:

I have come to the conclusion that at the present moment the publication of it would be inexpedient.

Mr. BRECKINRIDGE moved to take up the resolution introduced by him yesterday advising the withdrawal of the Federal troops from the seceded States. He did not intend making any remarks, as he had already expressed his views on that subject, and desired the vote on this motion to be regarded as a test question.

Mr. FESSENDEN supposed there would be no objection to that, but reminded the Senator that their was no quorum present.

On motion of Mr. HALE, the Senate went into Executive session.

Washington Gossip.

NEW YORK, March 27.—The Tribune's correspondence says: Capt. Fox reports the supply of provisions at Fort Sumter sufficient to enable Major Anderson to sustain his command until the 15th of April. He says the fort can be reinforced by military operations which will require a force not at the disposal of the President, or by strategy with hazards of a desperate conflict. From all the facts, it is evident that Sumter must be abandoned or civil war inaugurated.

The Herald's correspondent says Fort Pickens will be abandoned within thirty days.

The same correspondent says: The Southern Commissioners are dining to-night with foreign Ambassadors at Mr. Corcoran's. The Commissioners are on the most friendly terms with the English and French Ministers.

John S. Millson, of Virginia, if he will accept, will get an important foreign mission.

Secretary Chase has offered the First Comptrollership to Elisha Whittlesey. R. Mott, of Ohio, had declined.

Chas. Leslie, Jr., of Philadelphia, has been appointed Consul at Marseilles.

Virginia Convention.

RICHMOND, March 26.—Mr. Preston made a speech favoring the majority report, and of making a clear and distinct demand upon the North, with the alternative of a separation. He believed that there was full hope from both sections for a fair and final settlement.

Mr. Wise took ground that the guarantees demanded by the report were insufficient to meet the necessities of the South.

Mr. Mason followed in a speech against secession. He said no causes existed for it.

In the Convention this morning Mr. Holt, of Wertzell, offered the Constitution of the Confederate States as a substitute for the Federal Committee's report.

Mr. Wise called for the reading of it.

Mr. Clemens intimated that the purpose of such a call was to delay a vote on the report.

Mr. Wise deemed such an imputation as unfounded. (Sensation.)

The substitute, being the Constitution of the Southern Confederacy, was then read and debated till a late hour.

Convention still (11 o'clock) in session. There is much confusion and excitement.

From Texas.

NEW ORLEANS, March 26.—The Texas Legislature passed resolutions approving of the act of the Convention in deposing Houston. A bill passed raising a regiment of mounted riflemen of 1000 men, for frontier protection.

Since the departure of the Federal troops, Indians in large numbers have been devastating the frontier, driving back and killing the settlers.

The steamer Arizona, with Brazos dates to the 21st, has arrived. The steamers General Burke and Daniel Webster sailed on the 20th with the Federal troops. The Arizona brought to Indianola Companies E and G of the second cavalry. There are no Federal troops on the Rio Grande. The State troops are in garrison. Indian depredations continue on the upper border.

From New York.

NEW YORK, March 27.—The steamer Isabella is still in the custody of the custom house authorities, and the matter has been referred to the Secretary of the Treasury.

The steamer Arabia sailed to-day for Liverpool, taking no specie.

THE RIVER was slowly rising yesterday, with six feet nine inches water in the canal by the mark at dock. During the previous twenty-four hours the river had risen five inches at the head of the falls, and some fifteen inches at Portland. This rise has been very sudden, and no doubt caused altogether by the tremendous rains in this locality the day previous. The rain poured down in torrents, and if it extended to Pittsburg we may look out for a freshet.

We had no dispatches from up the river yesterday, but learn from the officers of the mailboat that the storm was very severe and the rain heavy. The officers of the Dove, from Kentucky river, report heavy rains and much stormy weather along that route.

From Capt. Spotts, of the Magenta, which arrived from New Orleans yesterday, we learn that the storm of Tuesday was terribly severe along the Lower Ohio. The town of Evansville was swept, and several houses unroofed chimneys blown down, and other damage done. The little steamer Jacob Musselman lost her chimneys, and the Eugene's cabin was started, but happily not seriously damaged. The Magenta rode out of the storm uninjured.

The Magenta left New Orleans last Thursday evening and arrived last evening, only five days and twenty hours out, having 600 tons of freight, including way lots, and to the clerks, Messrs. Benedict and Field, we are indebted for a manifest and memorandum.

The Magenta had a light brush with the locomotive Gen. Quitman, starting a little behind and holding her own to Twenty-four Mile Point, where she took on board some 500 barrels of molasses. She caught up with the Quitman at Bayou Sara, and there left her.

The Magenta, Capt. Spotts, returns to New Orleans this evening. She stores at 5 o'clock from Portland, providing sumptuously for passengers, and is in charge of careful, prudent officers. She is new and very staunch, and makes all her trips with regularity and punctuality.

The Magenta, on her next trip, leaves New Orleans on Saturday week, the 6th of April.

QUICK TRIP OF THE PEYTONA.—By special dispatch from Memphis to Benedict & Son, the agents, we learn that the peerless Peytona, Capt. Leyden, from New Orleans, passed Memphis Tuesday afternoon, at 1½ o'clock. She left New Orleans Saturday evening, and was only about two days and twenty hours to Memphis, which is a remarkably quick trip—the best this season.

The Peytona was at Vicksburg Monday morning at 1 o'clock, which made her run to that point only thirty-two hours. From a dispatch from Will Halliday, at Cairo last evening, we learn that the Peytona passed Cairo at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. That makes her time to Cairo from New Orleans, three days and twenty-one hours, which is hard to beat. She is due to-night, and will make the trip in a little over five days.

The Peytona returns to New Orleans to-morrow Friday evening, and being one of the race horses of the fleet, will meet with no delay.

☞ Capt. Wilson, of the New Orleans and Vicksburg mail line, was in the city yesterday, on his way East.

☞ The Sam Kirkman is at Cincinnati undergoing extensive repairs for the next campaign, and Capt. Smedley is on his way to Paducah to recuperate from the hard-ships of his Arkansas trip.

☞ The T. C. Twitchell arrived from St. Louis yesterday, on her way to Pittsburg. She has to await a rise to ascend the falls.

☞ Thanks to Dave Claxon, clerk of the fast packet Lancaster, from Carrollton, for a manifest.

DEATH OF COL. BURTWELL.—We regret to announce the death of Col. J. T. Burtwell, clerk of the R. M. Patton No. 2. He died in Florence, Ala., Tuesday morning, after a lingering illness, in the 64th year of his age. He was widely known among merchants, travelers and boatmen, and universally admired and respected for his sterling qualities of head and heart, being one of God's noblemen—an honest man. He was devoted to business, always paid the strictest attention to his duties, and has been engaged as clerk in the Louisville and Tennessee river trade for over twenty years. He was first on the Melton, in 1839, afterwards on the Pickaway, John Simpson, the Campbell, R. M. Patton No. 1, and R. M. Patton No. 2.

☞ The Silver Wave and J. W. Hallman were at Pittsburg yesterday loading for lower ports, and the Emma for St. Paul.

☞ The Horizon is due from New Orleans going North.

☞ The low-pressure Jacob Strader is the mail and passenger packet for Cincinnati and the East, at noon to-day.

☞ The Lancaster is the accommodation packet for Madison and Carrollton, and all way places to-day. She starts at twelve o'clock.

FOR LEAVENWORTH AND TROY.—The little Diligent, in charge of Captain Cobb, is now making regular trips to Leavenworth and as far down as Troy. She is the accommodation packet, and starts from Portland at 2 o'clock.

☞ The New Orleans Delta of last Sunday has the following items of river news. We fully indorse all that is said about Sam King, the King of boat builders in the West:

From Red river we have further intelligence of interest. The steamers Eri No. 4 and No. 5 has again resumed operations, and were expected to arrive at Shreveport from above the Raft last Wednesday. Heavy rains had fallen in the Upper Red River country, and there was a small rise at Shreveport.

The Oscar J. Wells, reported by us as sunk last week, has again been raised and was at Shreveport last Tuesday.

Capt. Thomas Moore will also have the Moro up again in a short time, and will bring her down to this port for full repairs.

The Vigo, Fleta, and Sallie Robinson were all at Shreveport on Tuesday, and have since gone to and from Jefferson.

The Fanny Pearson, Wm. M. Levy, Wm. S. Johnson, Fox, and Era No. 6 were at yet above the Raft, waiting for a rise in the river.

Capt. Joseph Boiseau, late of the Newsboy, left on the Peytona yesterday, bound for Sam King's, or some other good builder's boatyard, in order to contract for a new Red river boat.

A set of freight boilers for the E. Howard's machinery has been contracted for at Pittsburgh.

ERROR CORRECTED.—In the Memphis Avalanche of a late date, we find the following card, or letter, which, in justice to the shippers of Evansville, we take this method to correct, assuring the gentleman that he has been misinformed. In the first place the Cotton did not have her flags flying while at Evansville, and in the next place she received a large amount of flour, pork, and other freight at that port:

CAIRO, FRIDAY MORNING, March 22, 1861.

Dear Avalanche: I am thus far en route for Kentucky, and, being detained by waiting for a boat, will drop you a line or two. I have just learned that a new Southern boat, the J. A. Cotten, landed at Evansville yesterday, with the colors of the Confederate States flying, and was refused any fee gat and ordered to leave. So much for some of Southern Indiana. Now, to get even, let me suggest that a similar boat be here you today, the Floating Temple, whose proprietor has been arrested three times above this place, for attempts at at slang negroes; he even took one eight miles, but, being pursued, landed him. Post the scoundrel, and tell the Mistake Men to move him if he attempts to land.

YOUR FRIEND.

OFFICE OF LOUISVILLE COURIER, WEDNESDAY EVENING, March 27, 1861.

The money market has been getting more stringent all the week, with a fair amount of Eastern exchange and coin, but currency is very scarce. Several of the Banks have it in contemplation to advance their rates on Time Bills. The market for exchange has been dull, with but a small demand. Eastern is dull at ¼ premium buying and ½ selling. During the past week a decline of fully ¾ ₱ cent. has been established in New Orleans exchange, the market closing dull at ¼ discount buying and par selling. There have been several changes in uncurrent money. For particulars of rates of discount refer to our table below.

Business in the general market the past week has been light, and the transactions in all lines have been small. The demand for produce on Southern orders has been light, and the shipments in that direction were less than for some time past. During the entire week flour has been dull, with but a small demand for the home trade, but the market closes firmer, owing to the favorable advices received from New York, the dispatches yesterday quoting an advance of 5@10 ₱ bbl in that market. The sales were made at $4 50 for superfine, $5@5 25 for extra, and $5 25@6 for fancy family brands, the outside quotation being for small lots to fill city orders. Wheat has been quiet, with receipts about equal to the demand, and all that has arrived has met with a ready sale at $1@$1 10 for prime red and white. During the past week large amounts of wheat have been shipped South by our dealers in filling orders, but these shipments is not counted in our report of sales. Large amounts of wheat have also been purchased throughout Indiana at prices ranging from 95¢@$1. The receipts and shipments of corn have been light, though the shipments have been greatly in excess of the sales, as fair amounts have been shipped in filling standing orders, and these are not reported in our sales. The demand for corn the past week has been principally for feeding, and no large transactions have been made. The sales were less than 10,000 bushels at 45@46¢. for yellow and white shelled, sacks included. There has been but little doing in oats, and the market closes dull but firm. The demand has been low and mixed, from levee, at 50@52½¢ ₱ bushel, and prime white at 55¢, at which holders are firm

OATS.—There is no improvement or change to note in this article. The market is still quiet at 33@35¢ for round lots from levee.

HAY.—The market has been pretty well supplied with prime qualities, which are in good demand, and considerable sales effected during the week at $18@$20 ₱ ton.

BACON.—We have again to note a quiet market with a declining tendency in prices, sales having been made during the past three days at 11¾@11¾¢ for clear sides; 10@10¾¢ for rib sides; 9@9¾¢ for shoulders; 10@10¾¢ for plain hams, and 12@12½¢ for canvased to extra sugar cured, from store.

RAGGING.—We have no change to note and again quote at 14½@15½¢ in lots.

ROPE.—With limited stocks and a moderate demand, we quote at 8½¢ for machine made, as the ruling figure. But little hand is offering.

CORN MEAL.—In good supply and demand at 55@56¢ ₱ bushel, in sacks, and $3@$3 25 ₱ bbl. (of 196 lbs) Fairlea mills, from store.

Provisions at Cincinnati.

The Commercial says:

The trade in provisions during the week has been mostly in cut meats, manufacturing for them a firm market, and at rather better figures than at the date of our last review. There was not a great deal of stir in the market to-day, though there was a fair inquiry for both bulk and boxed sides at a little under the views of holders. Per-sistent efforts are making to get bacon sides at 9½¢, holders, however, are firm at 9¾@9¾¢. Shoulders are not in much request at 9¢, and sides are still made to sell from an actual figure. Clear bulk sides are in request at 8¾¢, and even 8¾¢ is in some instances offered without getting them. Shoulders rule at 8¢. Mess pork we quote at $16 75 for country and $17 for city, with but a moderate request. Lard is held firmly at 9¢ in tes and 10½ in kegs. There is rather more confidence in this latter article than there has been heretofore for some time.

Taken for consumption	2,000	"
Stock of Rio this day	3,500	"

REMARKED.

For some days past the market has been quiet, and transactions unimportant. The small stock on hand, together with the extreme rates demanded by holders, restrict business to urgent wants of the trade.

The sales comprise 500 bags Rio at 12¾¢; 200 do at 12¾¢; 800 do at 11¾@12¢; 400 do at 11½@11¾¢; all of medium grade. We note sales of 400 bags Laguayra in bond at 13¢.

We quote prime Rio at 13½¢, and good at 13@13½¢, fair 12½@12¾¢, common 11¾@11¾¢. Laguayra 14@16¢, Java 17@18¢.

Louisville Cattle Market.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, March 27, 1861.

The whole live stock market has been well supplied for the past week at the Bourbon House, and but few remain on sale to-day.—Prices have remained unchanged, and but little disposition is manifested on the part of butchers to do any business only what they are forced to do in order to retain their stalls in market. The shippers have almost abandoned the trade, and there are no buyers here for the Southern market; and we are unable to say to our customers what the market will be in a short time, as the whole future seems to be dark and gloomy. The money market has improved but little and there seems to be no speedy relief.
